Damage to the Railroads of Georgia and South Carolina by the Rain Storm of Friday—Serious Loss of Life and Property.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Alluding to the suspension of operations by the members of the Stock Exchange, the evening Express says: "Too much praise cannot be awarded to men who conceived and carried out this master stroke of policy. Bedlam was running loose, and the craze was rapidly communicating itself to the outside multitude, nothing remaining but to shut the door and try and bring back bulls and bears alike to their senses."

The defalcation of the Union Trust Company is a half a million. The bank at North America has not suspended.

Weather Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—For the Southern and Eastern Gulf States northerly winds veering to the northeast and partly cloudy weather.

SCALPED ALIVE.—While Amelia Grinnel, a young girl, was working last week in a shingle mill, in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, under a shaft, which was going at the rate of two hundred revolutions per minute, her hair, which was very long, caught in the knuckle joint, and in an instant it was torn entirely from her head, taking with it all the flesh and muscles of her head. "From a line," says the local paper, "drawn around from each eyebrow, her skull was left white and bare, without a trace of blood or flesh. The strangest part of the accident is that she felt little or no pain, declaring that when it was being torn off all that she realized was a tickling sensation in her head. She coolly walked out of the room, and waited patiently for a buggy to take her home. Her only regret was the fright it would give her mother. The scalp, with its beautiful long locks of hair, was curled and entwined around the shaft at the joint, and when the mill was stopped it was taken down, but no one had sufficient presence of mind to place it upon her head. It is nearly perfect, and the doctors have determined to tan it with the hair on, so that if the girl recovers it may be used as a wig. The case is one of the most remarkable on record."

VALUE OF SPARE MINUTES.—Madame de Genlis composed several of her charming volumes while waiting in the school-room for the tardy princess to whom she gave daily lessons.

Dr. Darwin composed nearly all his works in the same way, writing down his thoughts in a memorandum book, which he carried for the purpose.

Kirke White also learned Greek while walking to and from a lawyer's office.

"Who uses minutes, has hours to use
Who loses minutes, whole years must lose."

A QUEER TALE.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman has discovered that, as a law of Nature, every spotted dog has the end of his tail white, and every spotted cat the end of the tail black. He says he has examined many dogs and cats in France, England, and America and always noticed the same result. Our former minister to Japan, Mr. Harris, first mentioned the fact concerning the dog in a letter published some years since. He has looked at many paintings of dogs in the galleries of Paris and elsewhere in regard to this, and found even there the dogs spotted always in order, proving to him that the artist had invariable copied after Nature.

Our last Congress gave the public such a supreme contempt for corruption, that if you even hint Credit to your landlady she will contemptuously add, "Mobilier."

A FINANCIAL THUNDERBOLT.

The Wildest Day Since Black Friday.

JAY COOKE & CO.'S LIABILITIES BETWEEN THREE AND FIVE MILLIONS.

Comments of the New York Press on the Wall Street Crash.

The New York Tribune and Herald of Friday contains double leaded accounts of the wild excitement and stirring scenes witnessed on Wall Street on Thursday last as soon as the failure of Jay Cooke & Co., was announced. The comments of these journals are of course confined to the first announcement of the suspension, but the excitement had not then reached its highest pitch. The scenes witnessed on Friday were far more animated.

[From the New York Tribune.

Although the community had evidently expected an animated time on the Stock Exchange, and a delegation of stock speculators, sight-seers, and others thronged the galleries and lobbies leading to the Exchange, yet no such failure as that of Jay Cooke had been anticipated. When the fact became generally known there was a rush to the gallery and very soon there was an immense audience, beneath which the gallery actually creaked. So large, indeed, was the assembly that the Secretary of the Exchange declared that it had not been equaled since the eventful epoch of Black Friday. The excitement on the floor had spread to the gallery, and there was the greatest anxiety to obtain favorable positions from which to view operations.

On the floor of the Stock Exchange the wildest excitement prevailed. The market had opened feverishly under the pressure of evil rumors and the manipulation of the "bears." Each and every operator was prepared for the most direful calamities. Stocks were ruthlessly hammered, and the "bears" ruled the hour. When it become known that Jay Cooke & Co., had failed, dread seemed to take possession of the multitude; and when it was announced that Jay Cooke's First National Bank of Washington and the Philadelphia house had suspended, the scene was simply indescribe. The stock market "broke," and securities were sacrificed in the most ruthless manner.

The south-east corner of Exchange-place and Broad street, known as "Poverty Corner," was densely packed by an agitated crowd of impecunious stock brokers eagerly looking for money. Owing to the natural stringency of the market and the fears of additional disasters, the borrowers outnumbered the lenders about ten to one. The early operations on call were at 7 per cent. currency to gold interest, but when the Cooke, Schell, and other failures became known in the afternoon, the price advanced to ¾ per cent. per diem, which rate has not been reached since the exciting times of last winter and spring. The final business was at 7 per cent. later in the day.

[From Tribuue Editorial.]

Whatever may be the result of the crisis in Wall street, we shall regard the disaster to Jay Cooke & Co. as nothing less than a public calamity.

What may be the consequences of the suspension of the great firm of Jay Cooke & Co. it is impossible to predict. The fact is an impressive and awful one. The people refused to buy the bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad, the grand enterprise—we might have said speculation—with which the fortunes of the house were linked. Their difficulties got noised abroad, deposits were withdrawn from their keeping, and they were compelled to stop payment. We have shown how the Secretary of the Treasury himself stepped out of his way to save this firm (for the explanation of his crooked dealings with the Syndicate is now clear enough,) but even a Secretary of the Treasury is powerless to contend with such forces as are shaking the fabric of public credit. He can do much mischief. He can do little good. To expand the currency will be to revive the energies of the drunkard with a morning dram.

[From the Herald.

The biggest men and the smallest cut round to the Stock Exchange, and when its ponderous doors opened and the first call was announced the brokers were quaking in their shoes, and the noise and mingling of tongues were entirely worthy of the ancient Tower of Babel. Everybody was shouting. nobody listening, and the President had difficulty in rapping with his gavel to get the excited creatures below him to listen to his voice. The suspension of Jay Cooke & Co. was then announced, and a monstrous yell went up and and seemed to literally shake the building in which all these mad brokers were for the time confined. When the call took place stocks of all kinds and descriptions came tumbling down at a frightful rate, and in a moment many saw themselves ruined. This only served to increase the hubbub to a demoniac revel. Many tore their hair and ran about as if crazy, pushing, battling, shouting, shrieking to others equally crazy. The Stock Exchange had lost its head, and the usual pandemonium of daily occurrence was as mere music to the noises which were being made. Everybody was trying to sell, nobody was willing to buy. and, with the gesticulations of the principals, and the breathless running in and out of the clerks, the "tick-tick" of the telegraphs, the overwhelming confusion of tongues and the shuffle and patter of feet on the stone floors, a stranger might have well believed himself in a madhouse. The scene outside did not differ to any great extent from that occurring in the board room. Men were rushing, anxious and hurried, every moment up the steps leading to the banking floor, all with little slips of of paper in their hands, and a few moments afterwards they would reappear downcast and crestfallen, their non-success imprinted on their countenances. It was hard for these men to think that one of the largest banking houses in the country—a firm of national reputation—had really failed.

LOCAL BRIEFS—

Fifteenth Sunday after Trinity.

Days length 12 hours and 15 minutes.

Overcoats were in demand last night.

To-morrow (Monday) is the Hebrew New Year.

Autumn commences at 6:20 p. m., to-morrow.

Business brisk and lively on the street yesterday.

The rain and wind storm of yesterday morning did great damage to the open cotton.

The oyster season opens well in this city. The quality is good and the prices moderate.

The Chief of Police has ordered the penning of the hogs, and threatens the penalty of the law on all straggling swine.

Financial matters all quiet in this city. There has been an increase of deposits for the past two days over the same days last week.

The schedule of the North Carolina Railroad does not change to-morrow as stated by us a few days ago, at least no orders to that effect have been received at the office in this city.

As will be seen by advertisement the National Life Insurance Company is not affected by the suspension of Jay Cooke & Co. A telegram to P. F. Pescud & Son, agents of the Company, announces this fact.

The towering pile of empty cases in front of Creeches will attest the large amount of business done at his popular Marble Front. Yesterday we peeped inside and a bee hive would not show more activity. Creech is emphatically a business man. He means business and will have it about him.

HARNETT COUNTY.—The largest shipment of North Carolina bacon made by one man since the war was received at Messrs Williamson Upchurch & Thomas' yesterday from Harnett county. Mr. Steward of Black River township in that county was the consignor. Harnett raises cotton largely, is one of the largest turpentine counties in the State, has now a surplus of corn to sell, and supplies Raleigh with scuppernong grapes. The oldest scuppernong vine in the State is in Harnett county, being a slip of the original vine brought from England to Roanoke Island by Sir Walter Raleigh. The highest corn stalk exhibited at our last State Fair, if we mistake not, came from Harnett. It claims the largest Dorkin chickens in the State, and as for Shanghais—we have the word of Maj. Coffield for it, that they can be heard to crow five miles. Harnett will have many of its specialties on exhibition at the State fair, when it will show and speak for itself.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION.—Yesterday the County Commissioners, as the County Board of Education, held a meeting in their office in the Court House. Messrs. Wynne, Jinks, Todd, Rayner and Jones were present.

The county Treasurer reported to the Board that there was in his hands the sum of $6,956.85 of the common school fund.

According to the census of 1873 there are 11,908 school children in the county, and the Board proceeded to the work of apportioning the said $6,956.85 to the several townships of the county which amounted to 58 cents per scholar. The clerk of the Board was directed to notify the school committeemen of the several townships of the apportionment. As soon as the proper estimates are made we will give the amount given to each township.

THE PITTSBORO BASEBALLISTS.—The Modocs and Chatham Nine base ball clubs, of Pittsboro, indulged in a contest for the county championship on Wednesday evening, and all the town turned out to witness the sport. Night closed in upon the contestants, and the umpire called the game at the end of the 7th inning. The score showed that the Modocs were the champions by 49 to 28. Spur up, boys, the Waverlys, of Goldsboro, are after your laurels. The Executive Committee of the State Fair will give you the use of the grounds fair week for your match game, and we shall reasonably expect to see old Chatham well represented in the rising generation—but look to your laurels when you meet the Waverlys.

A NOVEL, FOUNDED ON FACT.—He rose early, donned his best attire, ate a hearty breakfast and quietly wended his way to the Presbyterian church where he seated himself upon the door steps to await the coming of the sexton to open the doors. The lonely quiet spot, the scenic surroundings, the churchyard, and the solemn ceremony that was soon to be performed within the sacred walls, gave food for silent and profound meditation. A bosom friend, a boon companion, would soon—in a few short moments—launch his bark on the perilous waves of the uncertain ocean of matrimony. How often had they sat together and canvassed this important and decidedly personal matter in the privacy of their own apartments, and each discussion served to make it more intricate and perplexed than before. It was indeed a fruitful theme for meditation, and our hero was so completely wrapped up in it that the flying moments passed by unnoticed or unheeded. (We leave him on the door steps to look after the other end of our story.)

'Tis Thursday morning, and a prettier one for pulling fodder, hunting foxes, or getting married was never seen in Raleigh. A large concourse of people are seen emerging from the doors of the Episcopal church, who fill the yard and street to await the exit of a young couple, just made one by divine authority, with the aid of Rev. Dr. Mason and the county Register. Carriages are drawn up in front of the door to receive the bridegroom and bride with the usual train of attendants. 'Tis done, the scene is over, and all disperse. The iron horse (the Chockayotte) gives a well known snort (brakes off) and the

"Two souls with but a single thought"

are speeding on to Weldon.

Among the number that attended the "two hearts that beat as one" to the station was a well-known banker of Fayetteville street, who, returning by way of the Presbyterian Church, espied our hero as we left him, on the steps. The banker was naturally astonished at seeing a brother Baptist occupying a front seat at the Presbyterian church, but as he might be on legal business, curiosity led him to investigate. The banker, says if he had fired a thirty-pounder parrot, the effect could not have been more sudden or unexpected on the ears of our hero, than when he hailed him. After much difficulty he persuaded him that the marriage had already taken place at the Episcopal church, and the

"Two souls with but a single thought,
Two hearts that beat as one,"

were far on the road to Weldon en route to New York on a bridal tour.

STATE FAIR ITEMS.—Competent Judges say the race track on the Fair Grounds is the best in the South.

The Executive Committee, it is understood, will add additional premiums for racing, so as to admit colts of four years and under to the turf. Several entries having been made.

Judge Watts has offered the use of his fast plowing ox "Joe Turner" to the inventor of the Diamond Cotton Chopper, who will exhibit the operations of his machine on the grounds.

A large number of new entries were made at the Secretary's office yesterday.

R. W. Smith, of Norfolk, enters several fine horses for the pacing purses.

Jno. A. McCarrow, of Va., enters several horses for the trotting purses.

A. B. Smith, of Guilford, enters a young horse for the racing purse.

Jno. R. Winston, of Caswell, enters several fine blooded mares for exhibition.

Over sixty head of horses have been entered up to date for exhibition.

Earnest Haywood, of Raleigh, enters a fine blooded filly 18 months old.

Poole & Hunt, of Baltimore, will make a large display of agricultural implements and machinery.

S. J. Satchell, of Beaufort county, enters several fine horses for the racing purses.

The manufacturer of Hall's Self-Feeding Cotton Gins have secured space to exhibit the operations of his machine on the grounds.

S. Carter Brown, of Greenwich, R. I., enters a Jersey bull calf for exhibition, and presents him afterwards to the Society. He writes that he has refused $100 for him on the farm.

Peter E. Smith, of Scotland Neck, N. C., writes: "I will have at the Fair a cotton-planter, sulky plow and a small-sized turbine water wheel, which I wish to put in operation on the grounds by means of a pump from a well. There is more enthusiasm here about the State Fair than ever was before.

A tank containing five thousand gallons of water will be kept constantly supplied on the groundt for the use of machinery in operation.

WHO WOULD'NT BE AN EDITOR.—In consequence of the valuable services rendered the State Agricultural Society by the Press of the State, whose kindly notices have contributed more than all else besides to the great success that will inevitably crown the Fair, the Executive Committee have and are making special and extra arrangements for the comfort, convenience and accommodation of the Press, not only of this, but other States during Fair week. Rooms will be fitted up in the Grand Stand, provided with tables, pens, ink and paper, and every necessary convenience for reporters, such as servants, couriers, etc., will be provided. A telegraph office, with operators, for the especial use of the Press will also be one of the valuable conveniences of the rooms. A committee consisting of gentlemen of the city Press will be appointed to look after the visiting quill-drivers and see that they shall not want for anything. The next issue of the Agricultural Journal will contain a pressing appeal to the inkstand "cusses" to be with us.

We make our appeal in advance. Come, gentlemen, come! You all have free passes, and Dr. Blacknall, of the Yarboro, and Maj. Blair, of the National, were never known to charge an editor. Let us have a larger gathering in that press room than we had at Goldsboro.

Dr. Pritchard's discourse at the Baptist Church this morning will be on Sunday Schools, and the singing will be done by the children.

OUR "SCHOOL BOY" AGAIN.—Our School Boy at Oxford, (who is by the way quite a youth) desires space to answer the Sentinel's reply to his well written, courteous and dignified communication that appeared in the NEWS a few daye ago. We think he is entitled to a hearing and it is with pleasure we yield him space:

OXFORD, Sept. 19th, 1873.

Editor News:—The Sentinel, without any just grounds for so doing, seems to doubt the statement made by me in the columns of the NEWS in regard to the wishes of the Horner boys as to the removal of the school to Hillsboro. It goes on to say, that, "If the wonderful change have come over the spirits of the boys that is described, it has certainly taken place recently." The change may, indeed, have been recent; for the design of Messrs. Horner & Graves to move their school was only made known a few weeks previous to the beginning of their session in this place, which was some time in July.

I knew nothing of the wishes of the boys, until they arrived here; but from that time, I can, without the least fear of exageration, say, that only one boy from a distance had the remotest idea of not following his teachers. Even if an intention of not following the school was ever entertained, does it stand to reason that such should always be the case? I only spoke of the present wishes of the boys in my first communication, but I will go further now and say, that if an intention of not following the school to Hillsboro was ever thought of, it certainly was never uttered.

The place is not the motive by which we are influenced. If our teachers were to remain here, the Editor of the Sentinel himself would not be more highly gratified than I would be, but as the change must take place, all express their willingness and determination to change too. And if the Horner school is moved to Hillsboro, (Professor Brown or any one else may open a school here) I will venture to say, that every boy now in attendance here from a distance will be found there. I would not have the Sentinel think that a partiality for Hillsboro induced me to notice the first statement made in its columns; for I am from the Eastern part of the State, and Oxford is much nearer me than Hillsboro. I will also inform the Sentinel that I am not a very large "boy."

SCHOOL BOY."

OUR CHURCHES TO-DAY—Divine services will be held at the following Churches to-day, (Sunday.) Strangers and others in the city are earnely and cordially invited to attend. Gentlemanly ushers will be present to conduct visitors to pews which are always free.

THE GREAT SHOW.—The monster amusement organization, which is to be in Raleigh on the 3rd prox., seems to have its name well taken from its namesake, the "Great Eastern." As all other crafts sink by comparison with that mastodononship into insignicanc so from descriptian criptions that have reached us, does the "Great Eastern" show seem to overshadow all others with its vastness. Those who have witnessed its many tents of huge proportions, and the varied and multifarious attractions which they contain, affirm that no idea of its immensity can be formed except by actual observation. Judging from our exchanges, its patronage seems to be commensurate with its proportions, and in order to accommodate the crowds that daily assemble to witness it, the managers are compelled to give three shows a day.

COUNTY AFFAIRS.—In the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners on Friday we neglected to state that a resolution was adopted appointing B. F. Moore, R. W. Wynne and W. H. Battle a committee to consider the petition of the citizens of Raleigh, in relation to granting a certain portion of county land to the United States, for the purpose of building a Postoffice and Court House. The committee were requested to report to a meeting of the Board on the 3rd prox.

THE GREAT MONEY PANIC.—The great financial crisis in New York was the general theme among our business men yesterday. The latest particulars will be found in our midnight telegrams. The Richmond Enquirer contains a special dispatch announcing the suspension of Henry Clews & Co., and that Jay Gould has made several million since the crisis by speculation in gold.

A good thing about the coffee-and-cake saloons. You can't get any liquor at them; and the coffee is not strong enough to hurt anybody.

The wife of a man in Paw-Paw, Mich., who left home threatening to commit suicide, will probably soon be discovered to have only been to her pa-pa.

THE DAILY NEWS.

JORDAN STONE, Managing Editor.
SAM'L T. WILLIAMS, Political Editor.

SUNDAY.....SEPTEMBER 21, 1873

BALTIMORE and Norfolk have forwarded contributions for the Shreveport sufferers.

THE financial crisis at the North comes at the most favorable season for our cotton merchants.

MEMPHIS had twelve deaths from yellow fever Friday. We trust that the cool spell now prevailing will cause an abatement of the disease.

THE bank panic in New York and other Northern cities has not yet reached the South, but it will surely do so unless the Government shall intervene.

THE New York dailies that have been itching for a sensation for some time, will now surfeit their readers with sensational accounts of the great Wall street excitement.

THE Richmond Enquirer complains that the Boston Post steals its local brevities. If the Enquirer don't want its brevities stolen, it should stop making them so tempting.

THE Virginia canvass is engaging the attention of the whole country. The Conservative speakers are arousing an enthusiasm that is unparalleled. Kemper is everywhere received with outstretched arms.

UNLESS the Government comes to the rescue of the banks, a general suspension is anticipated. This will produce universal depression in the money market and every interest will feel the pressure.

THE Statesville American has a slam on the "Modoc or Democratic papers" for pitching into the Revenue officials. When it is known that the Editor of the American is himself a Government official, its abuse will be better understood.

THERE must be something radically wrong in the system of Northern banking institutions. There is such a community of interests between them that if one wealthy and prominent house fails, others are involved in the fall and tumble too.

EVERY interest in the land is so intimately blended that a crisis in one is felt in all others. A failure in the cotton crop is a serious calamity to the commercial and financial circles. A depression in the money market injures the cotton planter. The prosperity of one branch of trade benefits all other branches.

MONETARY panics are at all times unwelcome visitors, but the one now prevailing at the North has come at the most favorable time for the cotton farmers of the South, just at the commencement of the crop season, and before much of the staple has found its way to the market.

THE Mechanics' and Workingmen's Journal made its appearance in our city this week. We did not see a copy of it until yesterday. It presents a very handsome typographical appearance, and the editorials are well written and in good taste. If it keeps up with the tone and standard of the first issue, it will merit the support of the public.

THE Richmond Enquirer rejoices because WATTERSON has got back to Louisville, and expresses the hope that he will put the C.-J. straight.

The Courier-Journal has a good deal to learn yet, if it thinks a conciliatory course towards the negroes will secure a single vote for the Conservative cause. The Virginia papers are fighting their battle on precisely the right ground, and they are going to win the fight.

GOOD for Wilmington! The citizens of that generous and wholesouled city have held a public meeting to devise ways and means to aid the suffering people of Shreveport. They passed resolutions of sympathy, and appointed as Soliciting Committee Hon. A. M. Waddell, Maj. J. A. Engelhard, Capt. I. B. Grainger, Rev. A. A. Watson, D. D., and Col. J. W. Atkinson. A large sum of money was immediately subscribed, and it was announced that a concert will be given in a few days for the benefit of the sufferers.

Wall Street in its Shirt Sleeves and Bareheaded.

When our editorial on JAY COOKE & Co.'s suspension was written yesterday, the dispatches had not come to hand announcing the renewal of the excitement in the money market caused by other and prominent bank failures.

It seems that notwithstanding the contradictions of the rumors affecting the solvency of other firms, there were good foundations for the damaging reports. The temporary quiet that prevailed by hushing up these rumors was only the lull that preceded a storm more furious and terrific than has been known in financial circles since the famous Black Friday.

In the absence of the New York papers, containing full and accurate particulars of the failures that are now shaking Wall street to its center, we can form some idea, from the telegraphic reports, of the panic which has seized the money market at the North, and the intense excitement which prevails among the depositors.

Friday's dispatches announced the failure of several prominent bankers and brokers, among them the famous house of FISK & HATCH. When the suspension of FISK & HATCH was proclaimed, Wall street grew furious and was soon "in its shirt-sleeves and bareheaded." Stocks instantly depreciated ten per cent. Then came the news that the Philadelphia banks were also succumbing to the pressure. Then followed the rush on all the houses. Long lines of depositors were seen crowding in front of the bank buildings—anxious and excited with painful apprehensions. The contagion flew to other cities and the same scenes were witnessed elsewhere than in New York.

The Pacific Railroad bonds did the work for JAY COOKE & Co., while FISK & HATCH attribute their own embarrassments to advances on the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Central Pacific bonds.

The causes of the failure FITCH & Co., and E. D. RANDOLPH & Co., the bankers of the Pennslyvania Central, are not announced. GEORGE B. ALLEY, the former owner of Dexter, assigns as the cause of his suspension the general decline in stocks.

Government aid is now invoked to stop the crisis that has fallen so suddenly on the Northern banking institutions and before which so many strong houses are tottering to the ground. Unless the demoralization is checked, but few banks will be able to survive the present severe monetary ordeal, which seems destined to be unprecedented in the annals of American finance.

If the money market was alone affected by these bank failures, and if the losses were confined to the stock speculators themselves, the calamity would not be so depressing and deplorable. But every trade and interest in the land are more or less concerned. The stringency of the money market re-acts upon the general market. All business declines and stagnates, and every circle of trade feels the depressing effect. The cotton market, the grain market and provision market are now unsettled because of the great distress in the money market. The farmers and merchants, the schools and colleges, the laboring men and the professional men of North Carolina, as well as those of every other State in the Union, will to some extent be more or less injuriously affected if this great financial embarrassment shall continue.

It is said that the calamities which are threatened by the prospect of the general suspension of our banking institutions can be easily averted by the Government's purchasing ten millions dollars of bonds, which will furnish the banks with a sufficient amount of legal tenders to enable them to resume business.

If this action is taken by the Government, the trouble will soon be over and quiet restored in a few days. But unless this is done speedily, the delay will be fatal, and the most disastrous consequences will ensue. But while awaiting the action of the Government in the premises, Wall street continues in its shirt-sleeves and bareheaded.

A sad looking mad man was sniveling over the loss of $300 to three-card-monte men, on the Hudson River railroad, the other day, and taking out the cards to show to a sypathizing passenger how it was done, he awakened so much interest among the men standing around that in less than twenty minutes he had won a handsome sum. After he had left they began to understand that they had been gulled by the monte man himself.

During the past twelve months five hundred and fourteen deaths occurred in San Francisco from consumption. The health officer, in his annual report, says: "It is an undoubted fact that more deaths with this disease occur among the Irish population than the people of any other nationality."

Dr. John S. Daniel, supposed to be a brother of the Conservative candidate for Attorney General of Virginia, Raleigh T. Daniel, was recently shot and killed in Paris, Texas, by a Mr. Stephen Tyler, of Virginia.

Mrs. Peter Murphy, of Geddes, has brought suit for civil damages to the amount of $10,000 against a Syracuse liquor dealer. Her husband was injured by the cars in consequence of being drunk on defendant's liquor.

A Covington (Ga.) minister refused to officiate at the burial of an old lady last Sunday on the ground that "she was not a member of his church."

A Detroit bootblack has a bank account of $1,100, much to the surprise of all who know how much blacking is required by the average Michigan boot.

An ingenious Boston girl has taught a squirrel, in his revolving cage, to turn her sewing machine.

The fall trade has opened well in Norfolk.

A large sum was subscribed by those present, and Messrs. A. M. Waddell, J. A. Engelhard, J. B. Grainger, Rev. A. A. Watson and J. W. Atkinson were appointed a committee to secure subscriptions. A number of ladies and gentlemen of the city will soon give a series of concerts to raise funds for the same purpose.

The Late Chicago Fire.

The total loss by the fire of Wednesday is estimated from $250,000 to $300,000. The number of buildings destroyed is sixty-four, only one of which (the packing-house of Richard M. Oliver & Co.) was of brick, the remainder being wooden tenements from one to three stories high, and occupied mainly as residences and stores, or shops and dwellings combined.

The fire originated in the depot from a spark which flew in from a passing train. Almost before an alarm could be sounded the entire shed with its inflammable contents, was a mass of flames, and there being at the time a stiff breeze from the Southwest the first engine had scarcely arrived before the fire had spread to a row of wooden houses on the north and from them to the buildings on the east side of Halstead street.

A second alarm was now struck, and soon afterwards a third, which called to the scene the entire Fire Department, which was soon at work with a courage and energy which challenged the admiration of every one.

In the meantime the streets in the line of the fire were literally swarming with people, burdened with every variety of household goods, rushing to places of safety.

The vacant lots west of Halstead street were soon covered with furniture, bedding, clothing, &c., which the fleeing inhabitants of the doomed dwellings had managed to save.

Intense excitement prevailed in the neighborhood, and many people living several blocks from the line of the fire began to pack up and move their portable property.

The dry goods firms of Field, Lester & Co., and Farwell and Co., as soon as they heard of the extent of the fire, sent all their trucks and teams to the spot, and placed them at the disposal of those whose houses were threatened. Owing to the effective work of the Fire Department, however, the removal of many proved unnecessary.

At Mitchell street the flames were stopped in their progress northward, while its spread in a westerly direction was stayed on the west side of Halstead street.

The Fisk-Stokes Murder—Mrs. Benton, "The Missing Witness," and What she Knows About It.

Mr. Benton, the "missing witness" in the Stokes-Fisk murder case, who was recently captured by the New York police, was born in Lexington, Ky., in 1836, and is, therefore, thirty-seven years of age. Her maiden name was Minnie White.

Soon after reaching womanhood she went to New Orleans, and in that city remained for over fifteen years. She there lived the life of an adventuress, being especially notorious during the war. In the year 1863, she married General Benton, of the United States army, who died very suddenly three months after the marriage. Mrs. Benton in 1865 came to Washington, remained three years, and then went to New York, where she has since resided. In the year 1871 it is alleged she became acquainted with James Fisk, Jr., and Edward S. Stokes. A few days after the murder of Fisk she visited Stokes at the Tombs prison and told him that she could give most important testimony in his favor. Stokes told her to tell what she knew to his lawyers.

In relation to what passed at that interview, Dr. John D. Townsend, ones of Stokes' counsel on the first trial, made the following statement: Mrs. Benton professed to Mr. John McKeon that she could testify to such facts that Stokes would certainly be acquitted. For this service she asked $10,000. Mr. McKeon replied that she ought to be willing to give evidence which might save a man's life without pay. He would not give her a penny for her evidence, and was confident, from her asking such a preposterous amount as $10,000, that she knew nothing whatever about the murder. Mr. McKeon therefore did not subpœna her to appear at the trial, declaring her profession of knowledge of the murder a falsehood. The prosecution were apparently aware of Mrs. Benton's existence at the first trial also, District Attorney Allen asking one of the witnesses a question respecting her. The prosecution at that time were evidently not desirous of hearing her as a witness.

The friends of Mrs. Benton alleged that the evidence which she would give would be the following: She had been visiting a friend in the Grand Central hotel a half an hour before the commission of the murder. Happening accidentally to look out of the parlor window she saw on the opposite side of the way Edward S. Stokes. She had beckoned to him, and he had crossed Broadway and entered the hotel. He had then come up to the parlor and conversed with her for over fifteen minutes. She had then left him in the parlor, descended the ladies' stairway, and was just going out of the street door when Fisk drove up in his carriage. Fisk leaped out of his carriage, met her on the sidewalk, and talked with her then in front of the hotel for a few moments. Fisk then entered the hotel, and she started to walk up Broadway. She had walked only a few feet when she heard the report of a pistol and saw a boy run out of the hotel in evident fright. She went back to the ladies' entrance, and had again entered the hotel, when, looking up the stairway, she saw two men carrying Fisk up the stairs. As she was going up the stairs she found on one of the lower steps a revolver, and from its position thought that it must have belonged to Fisk. She had concealed the revolver, and had gone up the stairs to her friend's room. That friend had persuaded her not to reveal her finding the pistol, and she had consented to suppress her discovery. Since the day of the murder she had not said anything to the authorities concerning Fisk's revolver, fearing it might injure the chance of Stokes' acquittal.

SUIT AGAINST A CLERGYMAN BY HIS WIFE.—The wife of the Rev. Alvah Wiswall, the assistant minister of St. John's chapel, in New York city, has brought a suit against her husband in the Court of Common Pleas to recover three mortgages for $2,000 each, which she alleges to be her property, and to have been wrongfully appropriated by him. In her complaint in this case, and in a petition for relief adddressed by her in June to the vestry of Trinity church, Mrs. Wiswall asserts that when she was married to her present husband she was worth $70,000 in her own right, and he was without means; that her husband has wrongfully converted her property and otherwise ill used her, and that she and her child have lived apart from him for more than a year in a state of extreme poverty. It is understood that Mr. Wiswall says his wife is insane. The New York Express states that the rector and vestry of the church have investigated the accusations against Mr. Wiswall, and are not satisfied that they have any foundation.

A Lively Timepiece.

A clock peddler was tramping along hot, dusty and tired, when he came to a meeting house wherein sundry friends were engaged in silent devotion. The perpatetic tradesman thought he would walk in and rest himself. He took a seat upon a bench, doffed his hat, and place his clocks on the floor. There was a painful stillness in the meeting house, which was broken by one of the clocks which commenced striking furiously. The peddler was in agony, but he hoped every minute the clock would stop. Instead of that it struck four hundred and thirty times, by the actual count of every friend in the meeting; for even the best disciplined of them couldn't help numbering the strokes. Then up rose one of the elder friends, at the end of the four hundred and thirtieth stroke, and said: "Friend, as it is very late, perhaps thee had better proceed on thy journey, or thee will not reach thy destination, unless thee is as energetic as thy vehement timepiece."

Philadelphia buried eighteen persons last week, whose ages were all above ninety.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DOUBLE ACTING FORCE PUMPS,

KITCHEN BROS.,

(Successors to CAROLINA PUMP COMPANY, LOCATED IN RALEIGH.)

Are prepared to furnish at short notice the Kitchen Pumps of various sizes with Porcelain Cylinders which can't injure the water. This is a submerged deep well pump, now in use 2½ years without the expense of new packing. We make all sizes, capacity 30 to 150 gallons water per minute, working in every conceivable way and by the use of hose which can be attached in half a minute, these pumps at once become a hand engine of great power, throwing water on the roof of three story buildings, with one hand, and they will stand four to six men safely. We have not heard of one of them being overcome by fire, and yet they have been tested by over fifty fires, saving over $500,000 worth of property. For ordinary use children work them easily if set up by our printed directions, and if so set we warrant them 12 months. Our Double Suction and Force Globe Pumps, also invented by J. L. Kitchen is capable of being used as a Drive well pump and is well adapted to steamers and vessels of any class; one man can throw water on the roof of 3 story buildings. But it has a double ended lever and with four men is a very superior hand engine. The No. 2 Globe Pump is 12 inches in Diameter with 1¼ suction and 1¼ discharge pipe and throws 40 to 100 gallons per minute, according to speed. The No. 3 Globe, 7 inches in diameter, 1 inch suction and ¾ of an inch of discharge pipe, capable of 25 to 30 gallons per minute. These Globe Pumps we make of cast iron for common use, brass for salt water and block tin for the inside of houses for drinking water, they lift the water 25 feet perpendicular, and you can sit it in the house and draw water from springs or wells at great distances.

All kinds of steam and water pipes fitted at short notice; hose, hose-pipes and couplings furnished here, &c.

Send for price list. The entire depth of wells with good references must accompany all orders.

Some few of these pumps have not given satisfaction but in each case it has been attributable to the maker and not the principle of the pump. We are now employing the best mechanics only, and are determined to have none other.
Address KITCHEN BROS.,

☞ PARTNER WANTED.—Being unable to fill the orders that we already have, because of the small capital invested in the business, we will take in partners with money, or go into a stock company if desired.

MR. J. L. KITCHEN—The pump you put in my well which is thirty-two feet deep, I have been using nearly two years. It has proven entirely satisfactory, and by attaching a hose which I got of you it becomes a local fire engine of invaluable service. For ordinary domestic purposes, the pump can be used by small children.

JOHN L KITCHEN, Esq—
Dear Sir—I have had one of your Force Pumps in use for two years, and it has proved in everyres, act as you represented it and I would not be without it for twice the cost of it.
Yours respectfully,
E. A. WATSON.

GREENVILLE, April 19, 1872.

MR. J. L. KITCHEN—
Sir—I have been using one of your pumps driven from my steam engine, for supplying my tanks. I have used it continually for two years, and can confidently recommend it for any purpose where water is required. The pump is so constructed that it will last without getting out of order for years, and I have heard no complaint from any of your many pumps used in this locality for yard well pumps.
WM. S. BROADDUS.

John C. Gorman and W. C. Stronach, of Raleigh, give certificates stating that they have had the pump in use one and two years, are perfectly satisfied with it, and it has not cost them one cent for repairs.

Messrs Wilson and Waddell, at Wilson's Mills, on the North Carolina Railroad, write that the No. 2 Globe Pump, with 150 feet of 1¼ inch hose, purchased from the Messrs. Kitchen to protect their mills and sash and blind factory against fire, is the best pump they have ever seen. They will buy another as soon as it can be made, for another well. Several parties have examined their pump and will buy others like them. aug 5-D&W1

HAPPY WOMEN.

Impatient women, as you wait
In cheerful homes to-night to hear
The sound of steps that, soon or late,
Shall come as music to your ear.

Forget yourselves a little while,
And think in pity of the pain
Of women who will never smile
To hear a coming step again.

With babes that in their cradle sleep
Or cling to you in perfect trust;
Think of the mothers left to weep—
Their babies lying in the dust.

And when the step you wait for comes,
And all your world is full of light,
O, women, safe in happy homes,
Pray for all lonesome souls to-night.

DOWN! DOWN!! DOWN!!!

The "Tumble" Now Complete.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GET THE ADVANTAGE, AND

ZACHARIAS & CO.'S

IS THE PLACE.

"Low prices will win," and "Small profits and quick sales" are truisms that have been satisfactorily tested by ZACHARIAS & CO., in the city of Raleigh.
By a strict adherance to these important rules, their business has increased so rapidly that necessity compels them at an early day, to commence the work of enlarging and extending their store room.
In view of this fact, they now offer their large and attractive stock of Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, Clothing, &c., to the public, REGARDLESS OF COST.
Think of it; bear it in mind, then tell your neighbors that they are selling

Fast Color Prints at 10c. per Yard.

Stout and Heavy Brown Domestics at 10c. per Yard.

BOOTS AND SHOES AT AND BELOW COST.

Ready-made Clothind at fabulously low prices. And all other goods (too numerous to mention,) at prices accordingly.

and see for yourselves. No trouble to show goods. Don't forget the place, a few doors south of Tucker Hall, Fayetteville street.

ZACHARIAS & CO.,

Our goods are all purchased by a resident partner in New York, who has the advantage of the daily auction sales of that city.
They have no old stock on hand. The Spring and Summer goods, in short, every article in the store are the present Spring and Summer purchases. july25-tf
